

Description

The software is installed on self-service machines and deployed in the hospital lobby for self-service registration, self-payment, number taking, report printing and other operations for hospital patients.

Features

- * 1. Supports identity recognition registration and number collection through electronic medical insurance certificates, medical cards, medical insurance cards, ID cards, medical record numbers and other methods.
- * 2. Supports mobile appointment registration, and self-service machine number collection through identity verification on the day of consultation.
- * 3. Supports the use of self-service machines to make appointments and registration, and supports number collection after the appointment. If there is something urgent, it supports cancellation of the appointment.
- * 4. Supports self-service settlement and payment of medical and technical examinations and drug collection fees through self-service integrated machines, and prints payment receipts after payment.
- * 5. Supports same-day registration through self-service integrated machines, and can choose expert numbers or ordinary numbers. When registering, it supports the use of medical insurance, Alipay, and WeChat for payment, and prints registration receipts after payment.
- * 6. Supports printing of examination reports. After the patient is examined, the examination report can be queried and printed according to the examination time.
- * 7. Supports online purchase of physical examination packages through mobile terminals, self-service machine number collection, identity recognition is required when picking up numbers, and appointment information is displayed after recognition, and items are selected for receipt printing.